Reflecting on BIMSTEC's 28 year journey, SG highlighted the significant outcomes of the 6th BIMSTEC Summit. He informed that, at the 6th Summit, BIMSTEC Leaders, apart from their comprehensive Summit Declaration, adopted BIMSTEC Bangkok Vision 2030, providing a roadmap for building a Prosperous, Resilient and Open BIMSTEC. They proposed a number of steps to enhance regional cooperation under BIMSTEC. In addition to signing and adoption of the Agreement on Maritime Transport Cooperation, Memoranda of Understanding between BIMSTEC and its developmental partners, Indian Ocean Rim Association and United Nations Office on Drugs & Crime were also signed.

In his remarks, Chief Guest, H.E. Wahiduddin Mahmud, emphasised the critical role of regional cooperation in securing lasting peace and prosperity in the Bay of Bengal region. He lauded BIMSTEC's evolution into a unique platform, linking South and Southeast Asia, endeavouring to fulfil shared aspirations, and dealing with common challenges. As part of Celebration, BIMSTEC member States showcased the cultural 'unity in diversity' of the Bay of Bengal region through presenting their dance performances, exhibition of their artifacts, and other unique items. The evening began with a vibrant march past, where men, women, and children from Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Myanmar, Nepal, Sri Lanka, and Thailand proudly paraded in their traditional and national attire, each carrying their national flag. This symbolic procession reflected the deep sense of unity, solidarity and shared heritage among the member States.

From the graceful Manipuri dance of India to the colourful presentations from Bhutan, Myanmar, and Nepal and the enchanting performances from Sri Lanka and Thailand, the event offered a vivid celebration of the Bay of Bengal's diverse yet interconnected cultural identities. I also express my deep appreciation to the Secretary General and his team for their dedication and hard work in advancing the vision of a peaceful, prosperous, and inter-connected Bay of Bengal region.

This year, we celebrate BIMSTEC Day with renewed energy and optimism following the successful conclusion of the 6th BIMSTEC Summit in Bangkok. The Summit reaffirmed our collective commitment to regional cooperation and solidarity. I congratulate the Member States for their active engagements and strong political will that led to the signing of the BIMSTEC Maritime Transport Cooperation Agreement, MoUs with UNODC and IORA. We also adopted the 'BIMSTEC Bangkok Vision 2030', the Eminent Persons Group (EPG) Report and the BIMSTEC Rules of Procedure. These milestones reflect the growing maturity and evolving purpose of BIMSTEC as a dynamic platform for regional cooperation.

It is indeed a great honour for Bangladesh to assume the Chairmanship of BIMSTEC at this exciting juncture while the interim Government of Bangladesh is simultaneously entrusted to put forth collective resolve to rebuild and reform our Nation. Along that line, deeply inspired to the core by the true commitment and conscience of the July uprising, to reconstruct many of the institutions and address deep-rooted issues. Bangladesh, as the incumbent BIMSTEC Chair, will remain deeply committed to working hand in hand with all our fellow Member States to deliver on our shared aspirations.

We believe, BIMSTEC must now move decisively toward implementation. The time has come for impact-driven cooperation that delivers real benefits to the people of our region. Let us further strengthen our existing mechanisms, foster meaningful engagements in the identified areas of cooperation and work in unison towards realizing a BIMSTEC that truly reflects the hopes and aspirations of our nearly 1.8 billion people. As we move forward in our collective journey, Bangladesh will continue to champion a vision grounded in human dignity, partnership, and sustainable development.

On this special day, let us celebrate our journey so far-and commit ourselves anew to the path ahead. Together, with unity of purpose and strength of will, we can make BIMSTEC a shining example of regional cooperation.

May this auspicious occasion inspire us to redouble our efforts to pursue our shared goals and aspirations!

Long live the BIMSTEC spirit!

I am also honoured to extend my heartfelt congratulations all BIMSTEC Member States and the Secretariat of BIMSTEC on the occasion of BIMSTEC Day. As a founding Member of BIMSTEC, Thailand has long recognised the platform's critical role in fostering regional cooperation. Over the years, it is evident that our cooperation coalesced through BIMSTEC has brought tangible benefits to our peoples by driving economic growth, fostering peace, and promoting regional integration. Thailand takes great pride and joy in steering this vital initiative towards its greater potential, especially during a time when closer collaboration is more essential than ever.

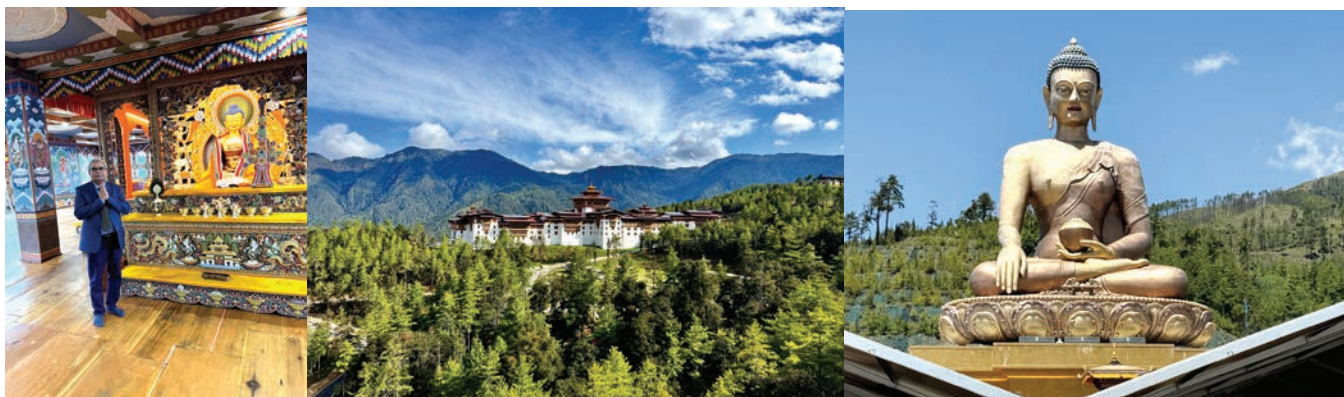

To reinvigorate BIMSTEC into a more dynamic platform, Thailand, in its role as the Lead Country on the Connectivity Sector and a natural bridge linking South and Southeast Asia, emphasises the critical need to enhance seamless connectivity across the region. Connectivity not only drives trade and investment but also deepen cultural exchanges, improves access to resources, and foster of closer people-to-people linkages. The recent signing of the Agreement on Maritime Transport Cooperation in Bangkok this April opens up greater prospects in the maritime domain. We indeed have further room for improvement in the aspects of land and air connectivity. We must, therefore, leverage our region's advantageous geography to unlock new opportunities for collaboration.
